TO PROVIDE FOR POOR

Honolulu, Hawaii, May 11, 1904.
To the Public:

The last Legislature having failed to provide funds for the maintenance of the Government Dispensary or provide medicines or supplies therefor, and also having failed to provide for a Government physician for the District of Honolulu, the undersigned physicians have mutually agreed to render their services free of charge for the care of the indigent sick and helpless through the Dispensary until July 1st, 1905, or until the Legislature meets and otherwise provides.

The necessity of this step is disclosed by the fact of there having been 266 treatments at the dispensary and 62 outside visits in the month of April.
There will be an increase of calls upon the dispensary. To meet expenses $125 per month will be required.
We believe the object will appeal to the charitable and the funds be voluntarily forthcoming.

Contributions may be handed to the undersigned physicians, or forwarded to the President of the Board of Health.

NICHOLAS II, CZAR OF ALL THE RUSSIAS.

St. Petersburg, May 19.—St. Petersburg had a holiday today in honor of the birthday of Emperor Nicholas, who was born May 18, 1868. The city was ablaze with color, the principal streets were gaily decorated, the street cars, display flags, moved slowly on the Nevsky and other thoroughfares, the ships moored in the sparkling Neva were dressed and the churches were thronged during the morning with officials and other persons offering prayers for the Emperor and the success of the Russian arms in the Far East.

At noon the dingy fortress on the banks of the Neva fired an Imperial salute of 121 guns.
In previous years it had been customary for the Emperor to hold a grand reception at the Winter Palace, but the absence of His Majesty made it impossible today. The joy of many officials was increased by promotions and decorations, which were gazetted in the Official Messenger this morning.

Peasants, in holiday attire, were grouped at the street corners, studying General Kuropatkin's bulletins reporting that the Japanese are falling back, but the news apparently did not occasion satisfaction because it was known, even to the lowliest, that Kuropatkin will not strike, and that some time must elapse before Russia can make her might felt. Therefore, no impatience was displayed at the failure of the Russian commander-in-chief to follow up his advantage. There was only muttered approval of the policy of waiting until the reinforcements, which the Emperor was bidding farewell, reached Manchuria.

Federal Judge Dole On Bankruptcy Case

Federal Judge Dole yesterday afternoon rendered a decision in which he refused to dismiss the case of Hoffschlager Co. vs. Young Nap, who was restrained from departing from the Territory in a bankruptcy proceeding. One of the grounds relied on for dismissal was that the respondent was a farmer. The Court says:

"The respondent must, in the nature of things, be in full possession of evidence to disprove the negative averment that he is not chiefly engaged in farming or the tillage of the soil. If it is not true, and the petitioner is unlikely to be in possession of such proof. He has indeed given some evidence tending to show that respondent is not chiefly engaged in farming or the tillage of the soil. The burden of proof is now on the respondent."

Several letters are shown as illustrating respondent's intentions. The Court says:

"The expressions of these letters and the absence of any intimation in any of the letters produced, of any recognition of the debt which accrued after the incorporation as distinguished in respondent's mind from the debt to the partnership are convincing to me that respondent fully recognized the old debt and that the application of the payments referred to, to the payment thereof, was fully in accord with his wishes and expectations. I think it can be said from his letters to petitioner that the debtor's application of the payments in question was first to the settlement of the partnership account. If I am wrong in this, then there being no evidence of his application of these payments, the creditor had the right to make the application, and choose to apply the payments to the partnership account. In either case the respondent was owing the petitioner at the date of the petition, so far as at present appears."

"As to the fourth ground of the motion, i. e., failure to prove an act of bankruptcy, the act of bankruptcy relied on is concealing and removing on the part of the respondent, a portion of his property with intent to hinder, delay and defraud his creditors."

"He admits in his answer that he is indebted to persons within the Territory other than petitioner to an aggregate amount of over one thousand dollars. Under these circumstances and the fact that the Court has found in this case that he is indebted to the petitioner, the removal of his property as alleged and shown was a transaction which, in the absence of explanation, was in fraud of his creditors, and the burden of proof is upon him to satisfactorily explain such admitted removal of his property from the jurisdiction of this court. In the case of Fullins vs. Fullins (Federal Case No. 5151a), the Court said in relation to the concealment of bonds by the respondent just previous to filing a petition in bankruptcy:

"In the absence of all contradictory proof, I have no hesitation in holding that the deposit of the bonds with Coleman was a device of the bankrupt to get the property out of the reach of his creditors."

"In such case as the one before the court a petitioning creditor cannot go into the question of what the goods are, or their exact ownership, or the question of legal exemption of any of these goods for any delay is likely to deprive him of all opportunity of keeping the same within the jurisdiction. The circumstances being suspicious it is for the respondent who has the full information in regard to every point concerning such goods, to make such explanation as to their attempted removal as shall show that he was acting legally and without fraudulent intention toward his creditors."

"The motion to dismiss is overruled."

Torpedo Destroyers Coming This Summer

A recent number of the Army and Navy Journal states as follows:
"Following the successful voyage of the torpedo boat (which was escorted by the cruiser Buffalo, now in Honolulu), from Hampton Roads to Manila, the Department is now conducting another experimental cruise with the monitor Wyoming and the torpedo-boat destroyers Preble and Paul Jones. These three vessels have been stationed at Panama for some time, but are now en route from that port to Guaymas, Mexico, whence they will proceed to San Diego, Cal., thence to Portland, Oregon, and on still farther north to Puget Sound, the orders contemplating arrival at the last named place about July 15. In Puget Sound these vessels will join Admiral Glass's squadron, which about that date will be on the return from its cruise to the Aleutian islands. With this entire force Admiral Glass will then cruise along the Pacific Coast, 'fetching up' at San Francisco later in the autumn. The experience gained by the men and officers of these small vessels will be of great service in case this country should become involved in war, and it is the intention of the Department to insure as much practical knowledge in managing torpedo-boats as possible. It is not improbable that these two torpedo-boat destroyers may cruise as far as Hawaii during the coming year."

The officers of the Preble and the Paul Jones are as follows:
Preble—Lieutenant T. C. Fenton, Midshipman S. M. Robinson, Midshipman W. Brown, Jr.
Paul Jones—Lieutenant G. C. Davidson, Ensign E. H. Dodd, Midshipman W. T. Conn, Jr.
